Suggested Teaching Method

- 1 The first exercise introduces the topic. Students can work in pairs. Don't spend too long here. You can add discussion questions at the end if you have time.
- 2 Assign pairs. Direct the students to the example. Have students think of three or four more genres and examples. Elicit some answers when finished.
- 3 Direct the students to the words in the box on the right. Students should read through the conversation and fill in the spaces. Have them check their answers with a partner and then practise the conversation twice, switching roles. Go through the answers with the group.
- 4 Have students read the substitution boxes. Answer any vocabulary questions. Demonstrate a conversation with a confident student, using the cues.

Assign pairs. Students can practise the conversations, switching roles regularly.
- 5 Students can work in pairs. Model an example with a confident student, choosing a film from your imagination.
